

HIGH TONE
Biography 2005

True sorcerers of massive vinyl sampling, masters in dub alchemy blending, live instruments, sound effects, electronic experimentations and hip scratching hop ...

The High Tone brotherhood have freely experimented within the back alleys of novo & live dub, jungle, drum'n'bass, techno trance (and more...) since the beginning of the digital era, always on the quest for the right frequencies: low & high tones!

High Tone have developed a personal, heart-warming sound that is guaranteed to make the temperature rise.

Fed on the musical heritage of King Tubby and Lee Perry, High Tone is a new, progressive dub capable of integrating every kind of influence.

Their music is the alchemy of three key elements: 70's dub, electronic music and ethnic music; a dub submerged in the jungle, somewhere between India and Tibet, and a stone's throw away from the rhythms of Jamaica.

Above all, High Tone is a band that has forged its reputation on stage. On stage they create a mind-spinning effect which brings a new energy and dimension to their compositions with a real interaction between sound, live light effects and video action.

Amongst the very best of European dub acts, these five guys from Lyon are the apostles of a dubian modernity...

Every gig is a new occasion to spread the vibe!
